

Prof James Griffith trained in Ireland and Birmingham, UK and is currently Head of Musculoskeletal Imaging at the Department of Imaging and Interventional Radiology, The Chinese University of Hong Kong. He has published 293 peer-reviewed full papers, edited 7 musculoskeletal textbooks and 190 book chapters. He is President of the Asian Musculoskeletal Society and Chairman of the Global Regional Outreach Program for the International Skeletal Society. His main current research interests are the pathophysiology of osteoporosis, and quantifying inflammatory change in systemic arthropathies.