

Kaori Togashi Brief self description

Graduated from Kyoto University in 1954, got Ph. D in 1987. Subspecialty is MR imaging especially in gynecologic field, starting from uterine cervical cancer in the very early studies of body MR and moving to functional imaging to elucidate uterine function. After appointed as professor and Chair of Department of Diagnostic imaging and nuclear medicine in 2004, as the first women chair of our medical school, mostly dedicating to support young researchers to do research in many fields, resulting in original article over 400.